APM SIGs – Get involved

The APM SIGs have an important role to play within APM in creating and disseminating new knowledge.

- Input to creating and disseminating new knowledge
- Create knowledge sharing opportunities on current interests of the profession – CPD!
- Further the understanding and practice of tools and techniques
- Inspire future project managers
- Give back to the project management profession
- Learn new skills
- Many more reasons!

APM Risk SIG - 2022 to the future

The SIG's main focus has been working towards the update to the PRAM Guide. This 3rd edition is being written in collaboration with the IRM and will be published in 2022. Alongside this the SIG have supported APM in the revision to its two Risk Certificates. We have had the success of holding our first two day annual conference virtually in April 2021, gathering insight from 11 speakers and over 300 delegates.

The role of risk management in the delivery of projects, programmes and portfolios has never been more important. It is therefore imperative that organisations recognise where improvements can be made and undertake the necessary steps to improve. However, there are still many obstacles preventing organisations from making improvements and it is the SIG's goal to assist in overcoming these. Remember 'if you manage the risk, you manage the project' and 'if you fail to identify a risk you have already taken it'.
